

>Hey!

>Look at all this WORK!

<(X)> POLARIS

POLARIS
protect your privacy

POLARIS

brand about internet privacy
(2018)

POLARIS is a brand created to help people understand internet privacy concerns. the process included researching and interviewing subjects involved in Internet privacy issues, such as the EFF. For the brand, I created the identity, which then evolved into 4 deliverables: A website to educate, a video game, a google chrome extension, and a poster campaign.

Website, accesses your webcam and projects image as bitmap background of webpage

Two posters for the campaign

Game Stills, defend yourself from facebook

Theres Mark Zuckerberg

Level Complete Info

Website in action

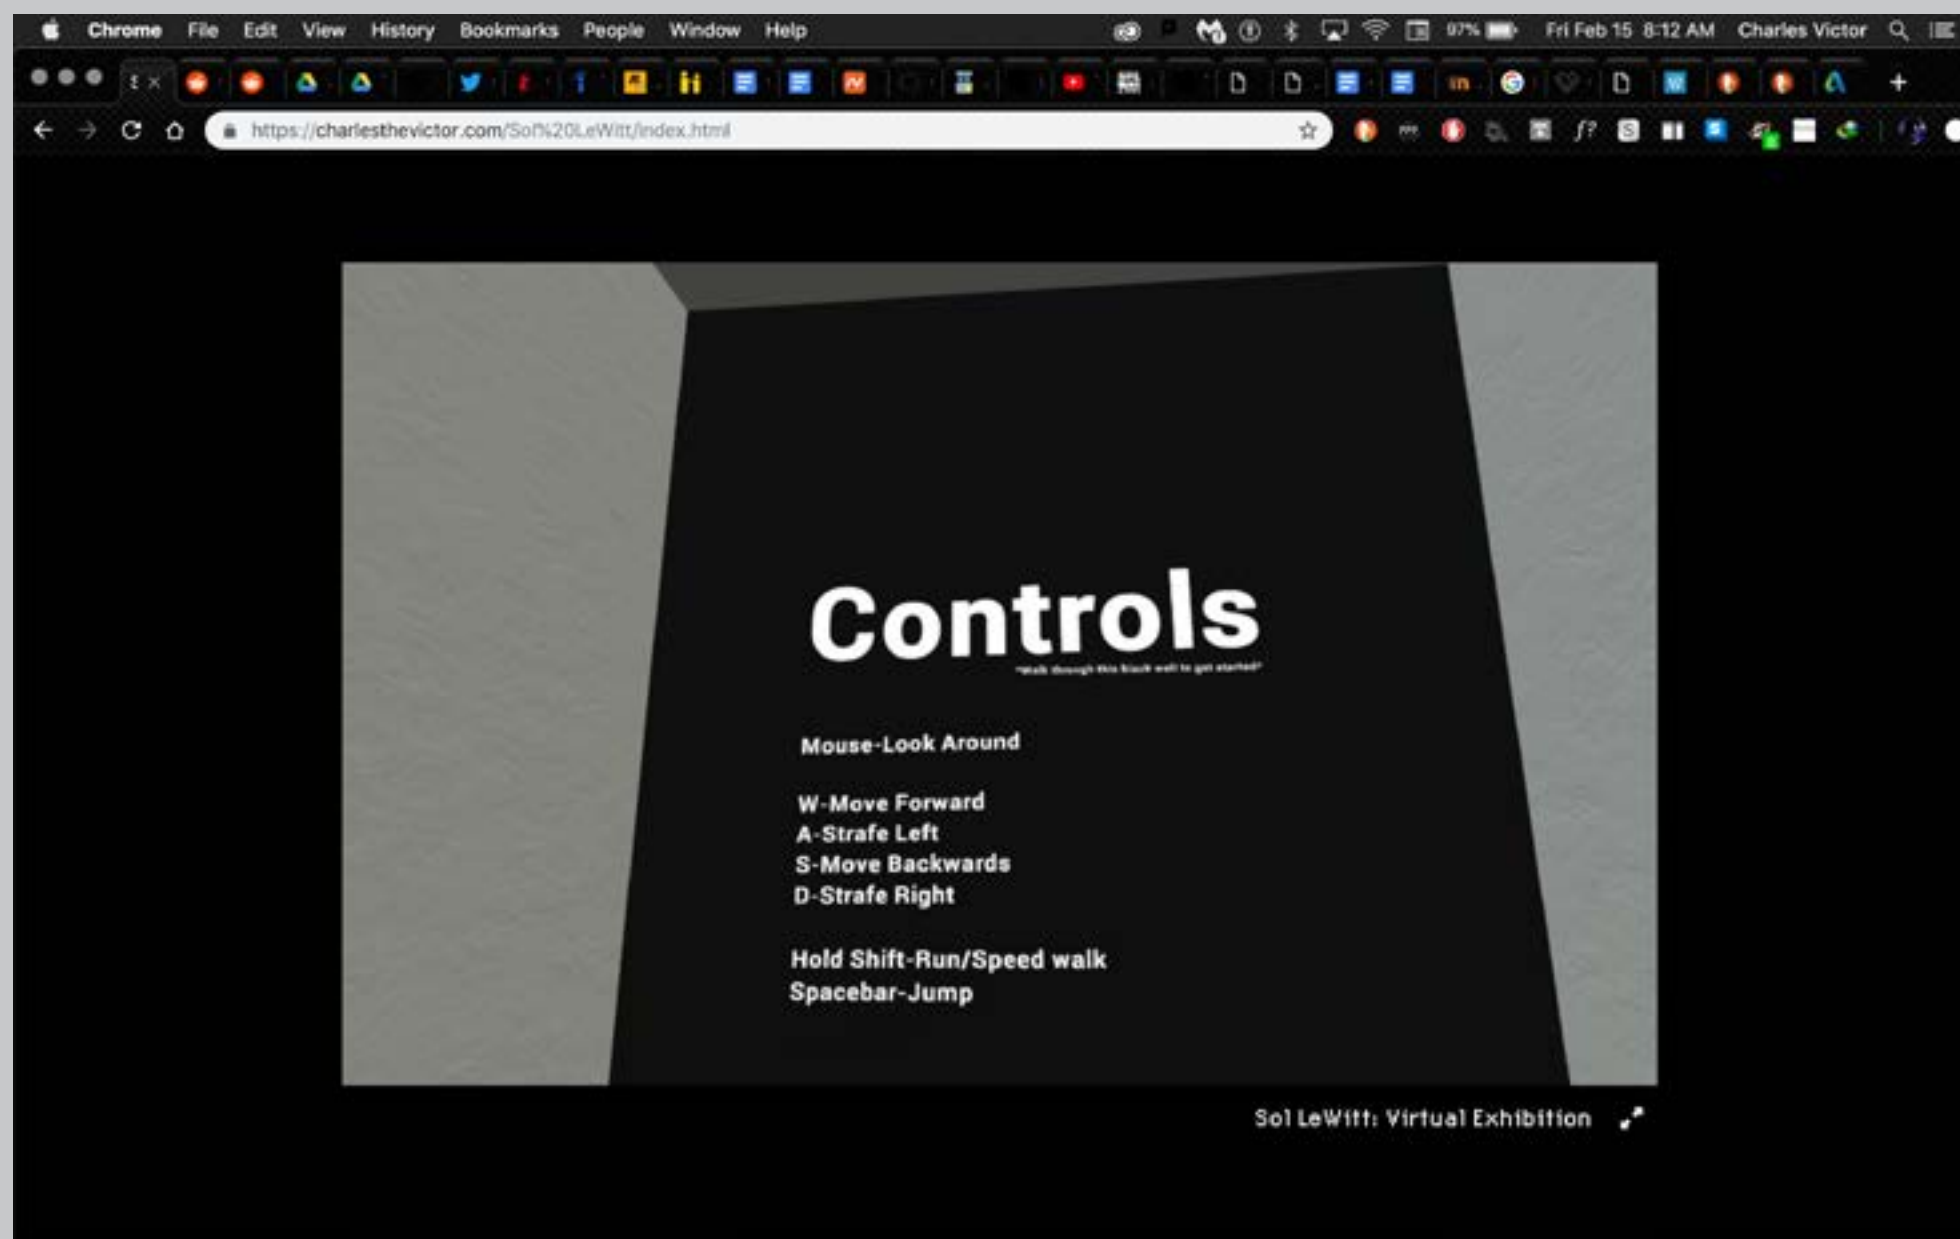

Sol LeWitt
a virtual exhibit

Sol LeWitt

a virtual exhibition
(2018)

Sol LeWitt is an artist who creates artwork, sculptures, and paintings. His work is sometimes instructional, logical, and methodical. After visiting SFMOMA, I tasked myself with creating a playable virtual exhibition of his work. By following his methods and instructions, I was able to build out two of his artworks in a virtual 3D space. The two are works are his 122 “incomplete cubes” and “Wall Drawing #289”.

Starting screen with controls on webpage

The cubes

Room with the cubes

Room with the Wall Drawing

The Wall Drawing

A blurred, black and white photograph of a person holding a camera, serving as the background for the text.

IT RAINED
IN MY HEAD

IT RAINED IN MY HEAD type in motion video (2018)

It Rained in my Head is a short music lyric video for a song by the same name by a band called Ceremony. Being a fan of their music, I appreciated their hardcore punk music and album artwork style. Many previous iterations were failures, not producing the “hardcore” feeling. To successfully push the idea, I wanted to have the lyrics tattooed on my body for the video. However, no tattoo parlor would accept my request. So instead I borrowed a tattoo machine from a friend and did the job myself. Filmed with help from Tomas Gonzalez.

Still from video; Me tattooing myself

Various stills from the video

>Thats all folks!

>Email me @:

>charles.victor@cca.edu

>Find my work @ my website!:

>charlesthevictor.com